Ready to challenge your networking style?

Join us for an evening with John Davidoff, founder and Managing Director of Davidoff Communications, a global marketing consulting firm that has been built entirely on networking. John will give valuable and inspiring insights into his personal experiences that helped shape a purposeful networking style. Learn how Mission-Driven Networking™ goes beyond identifying immediate potential business prospects or sales leads; it often involves recognizing that each interaction, each new person you meet is often for a reason.
